

BAZA – Balkanska Ženska Akademija

Empowering women to shape tomorrow

18-21 April, 24-26 May, and 28-30 June 2024

The Friedrich Naumann Foundation for Freedom is the liberal political foundation of the Federal Republic of Germany. For more than thirty years, it has been promoting open and tolerant societies, civic engagement and the rule of law in the Western Balkans with the aim of strengthening democratic and pluralistic principles in the region and thus actively supporting the countries' European integration with its liberal values of freedom, peace and tolerance.

Our mission is to create change by empowering women to pursue their political ambitions. We believe that gender equality can only be ensured through adequate political representation not only in parliaments and councils, but also within liberal parties themselves. For liberals, there is no doubt that society as a whole is only served if the female part of society can develop as freely politically as their male counterparts.

Recognizing that the social circumstances are far from ideal, we want to prepare women as best we can for their commitment to change. Even if we cannot immediately change the framework, we can empower those who will work to do so. We do this in the belief that there is a desire in the region for cross-border collaboration among strong women who support each other, offer advice and support, and want to reform their respective societies in the same way.

“BAZA – Balkanska Ženska Akademija” supports women in their quest to dismantle the gender barriers that stand in their path, and to fight every day for a future shaped by their voices. We offer tailor-made training modules within a three-month academy so that talented, ambitious liberal women can develop to the best of their abilities at all stages of their political journey. Eventually, we support female change makers to fearlessly and creatively advocate towards more gender equal politics in countries of the Western Balkans: Bosnia and Herzegovina, Croatia and Serbia.
